

Ant Eater

One day my little dog named Benny was liking my hand and I saw this little black thing on his gum. I looked closer but I still couldn't figure out what was on his gum.

I tried to pull it off with my hands, but it was no use it was on there good. So than I decide to get some tweezers and I tried and tried to pull it off, and than finally I got it off.

When it was off I looked at it and I saw that it was a carpenter ant that my dog had eaten and the ant had bitten my dogs gum before it died. And to this day I don't think my dog eats anymore ants!!!!
